Summary

Experienced Full Stack Developer specialising in back-end development. Over the past 5 years I've worked for a number of digital agencies helping international organisations and start-ups reach their business goals by developing high performing b2b, b2c and e-commerce websites as well as internal applications using C#, PHP, HTML, CSS and JavaScript. I'm passionate about using new technologies, and enjoy working on complex projects that challenge me.

After travelling around South East Asia for the past 3 months whilst freelancing, I am now seeking an exciting challenge with an innovative tech company changing the everyday.
